Complaints received by Banking Ombudsman

793. SHRI C. PERUMAL: Will the Minister of FINANCE be pleased to state:

(a) the number of complaints received by banking ombudsman offices since January, 2006 after the revised banking ombudsman scheme came into force;

(b) the number of complaints disposed of out of the total complaints; and

(c) the reasons, if any, for not disposing of remaining complaints?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE (SHRI PAWAN KUMAR BANSAL): (a) Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has reported that the total number of complaints received during January to June 2006 is 21935.

(b) 17839 complaints have been disposed of out of the total complaints.

(c) The complaints received by the Banking Ombudsman are first attempted to be resolved by promoting a mutual settlement between the complainant and the bank. Only in cases where the complaint is not settled by agreement within a period of one month from the date of receipt of complaint or such further period considered necessary as per the case, the Banking Ombudsman passes an award, after affording reasonable opportunity for the parties to represent their case. In view of the above procedure, a complaint on an average takes two months to be resolved and some complicated cases may take more than the anticipated time.
